The first day of summer
officially begins June 20th.

HELLO JUNE!

Hey everyone!

Hope you are healthy and staying safe. I was so sorry that we had to cancel our seminar with Robert Warren. I spoke with Jimmy from the Versailles building and he really did not know when the building would be reopened. I guess we are at a stand-still until further notice.

I have been thinking about our retreat in October. Even though the State parks are now open, I do not really think we should try to have the retreat this year. Maybe we can think of something fun to do in place of the retreat. Be thinking about that and let me know your ideas.

Please tell all of the fathers in your life "Happy Father's Day" for me. I hope you are able to celebrate them.

Looking forward to seeing you soon.

Connie Bolin
President

And so with the sunshine and the great bursts of leaves growing on the trees, just as things grow in fast movies, I had that familiar conviction that life was beginning over again with the summer.

— F. Scott Fitzgerald

It was June, and the world smelled of roses. The sunshine was like powdered gold over the grassy hillside.

Robert Warren Seminar

June 25-27, 2020

CANCELED

With the continued closure of the UK Extension Office building due to COVID-19 restrictions in place, regrettably it was necessary to cancel the upcoming Robert Warren Seminar scheduled for June 25-27. Checks for the seminar are being returned to those already registered.

Though we are currently unable to physically meet and paint together, we hope you are painting at home, maybe completing some of those unfinished projects or starting new ones. Several artists on FaceBook are offering free or reduced-price live classes as well as short videos with insights into their work, so it is a great time to try something new and perhaps, out of your comfort zone. If you haven't already, check out some of these great artists:
